- The look and spirit of Indaba reflects both South Africa’s position as a leader in sustainable production and the handcrafted approach found in South Africa’s art world.
- Grapes are selected from exceptional vineyards in Stellenbosch, Paarl, Durbanville and Robertson.
- Indaba Mosaic is a Bordeaux blend representative of the best grapes coming together. 65% Cabernet Sauvignon, 15% Petit Verdot, 9% Malbec, 8% Merlot, 3% Cabernet Franc.
- Production is overseen by celebrated winemaker Bruwer Raats (proprietor and winemaker of Raats Family Wines).
- A commitment to social responsibility is a key part of the Indaba philosophy, and a portion of the brand’s sales supports a wine-related scholarship program administered in conjunction with Stellenbosch University.
- Indaba received a level 5 review (80%) from the Broad Based Black Economic Empowerment (BBBEE), which is an organization committed to motivate the correction of race and gender based inequalities that exist in South Africa as a legacy of the pre-1994 Apartheid rule.
